

Shelton Class News

November 20, 2009

Our Continuous Classroom Improvement Goal for last week was: Recognize numbers 0-10 or higher.

Coming Up:
Thanksgiving Break
November 25-27

The class thought of some great ways to help each other learn.

Dear Kindergarten Parents and Guardians,

It was such a pleasure to get to meet each one of you during conferences. Let's celebrate the improvements and learning that has taken place. As we partner together, I know we will continue to see your children grow and experience success in school. Please let me know if you have any concerns that were not covered during our conference.

Mrs. Shelton

Students practice Native American songs. Kindergarten classes will present a short and sweet Thanksgiving performance at 3:00 in the gym, next Tuesday.

Our Pride Panthers Elected

Aleesha Brown

Jasmine Lurry

In spite of the big chill, our field trip to Rutledge-Wilson Farm included terrific, hands-on learning experiences.

Class Mission Statement

The mission of Mrs. Shelton's kindergarten class is to read books, be respectful, be a good listener and have a plan to be ready for First Grade.
